OPEN SEASON IN POLITICAL HUNT IS HERE

Things Warming Up For Primaries In April Now

For the man or woman who takes an interest in politics the open season is now on until the April primaries and then on through the summer until the elections in November there will be some developments that will be interesting to watch.

Lee County politics will not provide much of a thrill, unless the unexpected happens. The Republicans have a full ticket in the field and it is an exceptionally strong one, giving promise of little or no contest in the primaries and eventual election in the fall, although there will probably be a full ticket in the field from the Democratic side and there is a possibility of a concentrated drive in an effort to put at least one Democrat over the top.

Fight for Legislature
Local interest will center on the legislative fight, both in the house and senate, with the prospects good for a full field of candidates on the Republican ticket. The legislative primary on the Democratic ticket will be a quiet and orderly procedure in all probability, with John Devine being nominated for re-election without opposition.

But the Republican primary will be enlivened by a number of spirited contests, from the present outlook. There are at least four candidates for the two Republican seats in the house, comprising two from Whiteside, Henry Allen of Lyndon present representative who is seeking re-election, and Geo. S. Brydia of Prophetstown; and two from DeKalb, Alvin Warren, former member of the house, and Dennis J. Collins of the city of DeKalb.

In the state senate race, Geo. C. Dixon, house member aspires to the Senate seat of Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb, who today announced he will seek re-election.

County Contest Quiet
In the county offices, five official terms expire. They are County Judge, Sheriff, County Clerk, County Treasurer and County Superintendent of Schools. Judge Wm. L. Leech, County Clerk Fred G. Dimick and Superintendent of Schools L. W. Miller have announced their intention of seeking re-election and will doubtless be returned without opposition because of their splendid record in office.

For sheriff here is Fred Richardson, who has served so efficiently as Chief Deputy under Sheriff Ward Miller; and Mrs. Olive Thompson, the very capable and popular Chief Deputy County Treasurer, is a candidate for that office at the expiration of the term her husband, Dorrance Thompson who has administered so satisfactorily.

The only county office for which there has even been a hint of contest in the Republican primary is that of Sheriff. There have been reports of one or two men in other parts of the county who have ambitions for that position but close observers are of the opinion that there is no one who can offer a serious threat to Fred Richardson's candidacy.

Democratic leaders in the county stated today that plans are being made to place a full county ticket in the field and that a concerted effort may be made to put over at least one or two of their candidates. They believe the present time a little premature for detailed announcement but hint at future developments which may prove interesting.

Payless Payday In Chicago For Police

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Yesterday was payday for Chicago's 5,000 policemen, but nothing was done about it. Today was payday for three thousand employees of the Board of Education, and ditto.

Office employees, civil service workers, engineers and miscellaneous workers were the ones who failed to receive checks. Next Friday is payday for the teachers, and the school board is dubious about making salary payments to them. The reason of the board is the same as that in the case of the policemen: "Haven't got the money."

Passing of the police payday was the first time in 3 years the officers of the law failed to get their wages. Approximately 13,000 other city employees face payless paydays unless something is done to refill the treasury.

Walter Stahl, 5, Died Yesterday

Walter G. Stahl, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stahl who reside in South Dixon township on the Peoria road, passed away at the family home yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, death resulting from an attack of acute appendicitis. Funeral services will be conducted from the Preston chapel Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Oakwood.

NEIGHBORHOOD STORE IN WEST END HELD UP BY ARMED MAN YESTERDAY

A lone bandit, flourishing a blue steel revolver, held up Mrs. Kate Bever in her store, 1110 Fourth street last evening about 3:45 and escaped with about four dollars in change. The man, described as being of medium build, light complexion and wearing a jacket and cap, walked in to the store and asked for a packet of cigarettes. Mrs. Bever turned to accommodate him and when she turned to hand the cigarettes to the man, she looked into the barrel of the revolver.

The stranger demanded the money and when Mrs. Bever turned over a can which contained the change, he demanded the paper bills. She told him that she had none and he took the can and backed out of the door. An automobile was waiting in front of the store and this was driven west to Jackson avenue and then north to Third street. It is believed that an accomplice was waiting in front of the store.

The police were notified immediately and Chief Van Bibber and Officers Glessner and Kelly responded, but could find no trace of the bandit. No description of the car could be learned as Mrs. Bever was alone in the store at the time.

Wife's Habit Of Bannister Sliding Results In Divorce

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The ancient and popular pastime of sliding down the bannisters has wrecked the marriage of the Walter Gabberts. Judge Sabath indicated yesterday he would sign a divorce decree in favor of Mrs. Gabbert.

It was her delight, she set forth, to slide down the bannisters. Gabbert objected. The appearance of his wife swishing around a curve, or the noise of it or something—it was not quite clear to what he took particular exception—was not favored by him. She told the court he eventually resorted to cruelty in an effort to break her of the habit formed in happy childhood.

Alimony and custody of their small child were granted Mrs. Gabbert.

SLIDING PLACE FOR CHILDREN ON E. THIRD ST.

Commissioners Take Action To Establish Place

At the solicitation of the Telegraph, Mayor Frank D. Palmer and members of the city council this morning designated an ideal site for the children of Dixon as a sliding site. Mayor Palmer and Commissioners Loftus and Miller were unanimously in favor of the plan to provide a safe and suitable street for this purpose.

East Third street, starting at Dement avenue, was decided upon for the entertainment of the children. Mayor Palmer suggested that Boy Scouts, who have generously given their service in past years, guard the road at Dement avenue and on East Second street at Noble avenue, routing traffic on Second street. East Third street at this location is well adapted for this purpose, the boulevard lighting system providing plenty of light for the merry-makers and with no dangerous cross-street intersections.

Complaints have been coming to the city building of children sliding on the streets throughout the city and until today, no place has been set aside for this purpose, despite the fact that coasting is the best at the present time that it has been in many months. Children will be able to coast on the East Third street hill beginning this evening, the only traffic on the street being that of residents and it is planned to have Boy Scouts present each evening to guard each end of Third street for the safety of the youngsters.

Police On Guard At Home Of Judge

Scranton, Pa., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Police today exchanged shots with two men found loitering around the homes of a judge and prosecutor. The men escaped.

Guards at the home of Judge E. C. Newcomb, who is conducting an investigation into the activities of a local slot machine syndicate, attempted to question the men who ran as the police approached.

A short time later at the home of District Attorney J. Julius Levy, special prosecutor in the slot machine investigation, a similar episode occurred.

Last Wednesday morning the home of former Police Commissioner Aragoni was dynamited.

Gives Congregation Chance To Pan Him

Jerseyville, Ill., Jan. 17.—(UP)—To stimulate more interest in sermons and also to still "back yard" criticism, Rev. Robert Boeckstruck, pastor of an Evangelical church here, plans to have his congregation "pan" him every Sunday.

He will deliver his sermon at the outset of the church hour and at its conclusion, opportunity will be given members of the congregation to express their opinions of the theme discussed.

Evening Telegraph City Subscribers will confer a great favor to their news boys by having 20c ready for the boy each Saturday morning when he calls to collect.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

DIVORCE GRANTED
Judge Harry Edwards Jr. Circuit Court has awarded a decree of divorce to Mrs. Gladys Kime from Harold Kime on grounds of cruelty. She was given the custody of her year-and-a-half old son, Reginald Denton.

BOVEY WON TOURNEY
The bridge tournament at the Elks Club last evening for members of the order was very largely attended and provided much enjoyment. R. C. Bovey and L. B. Hofer were winners of first and second trophies, respectively.

GET FINAL DIVIDENDS
Creditors of John W. Duffy, bankrupt, and prisoner in the Iowa penitentiary, today received from William F. Hogan, trustee, checks for their final dividends in his estate.

FIVE DECLARED INSANE
Judge William Leech and County Clerk Fred G. Dimick went to the Dixon state hospital yesterday afternoon where five women patients of the institution were declared insane before a commission of physicians. The women were committed to institutions at East Moline, Elgin, Kankakee and Alton.

SEDAN BURNED UP
A Plymouth sedan, bearing Wisconsin license plates, was burned on the route 2 paving near the Fred Hill corner, east of the city last night about 12 o'clock. The car is believed to have skidded and rolled over into the ditch and caught fire. Local authorities and state police had not been able to locate the owner at noon today.

BROTHER DIED TODAY
Meivin A. Murphy, manager of the Great American Store, this morning received a telegram advising him of the death of his brother, Ozro Murphy, at his home in Galveston, Tex., the result of pleurisy. The deceased, a native of Sterling, was claim agent for a southern insurance company, and is survived by his widow and two children.

FIRE EAST OF CITY
The Robert Jones home on the River road, east of the city, was the scene of a fire yesterday afternoon, which started from a defective chimney and for a time threatened the property. Neighbors responded to a call for assistance and formed a bucket brigade and were successful in extinguishing the fire with but slight damage to the property. The house is owned by Adam Fazzi.

TO QUIT PREACHING
Rev. A. W. Carlson of Grace M. E. church, Rockford, former pastor of the First Methodist church of Dixon, will quit the ministry May 1, it was announced in Rockford yesterday, to become general manager of the Western Drug Co., Incorporated, as which he will be associated with a score of men, who plan to promote a chain of drug stores throughout this part of the middle west.

TO VIEW SUSPECTS
Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber, Lee Carpenter and Allen Glassburn went to Aurora this afternoon to view two alleged gasoline station bandits who were captured in that city last evening. The pair are said to be held for the robbery of a gasoline station at Maple Park.

Messrs. Carpenter and Glassburn will attempt to identify the pair as the two men, driving a LaSalle coupe, who four weeks ago drove into the Standard filling station, held up the attendants and escaped with about $30.

TO SHARE PRODUCE
Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon state hospital, will send some of the supplies grown and prepared at the local institution to other institutions where crops were not as successful and growing conditions were not as prolific. Cabbage grown at the farms of the Dixon institution packed 125 barrels of 50 gallon capacity each with choice sauer kraut last fall. This is more than will be used at the Dixon institution and several charitable institutions. Tomatoes grown at the local institution when harvested last fall filled 36,000 one gallon cans, all of which will be fed to the patients and employees.

PLAY ON ROLLER SKATES
An exciting game of basketball, played on roller skates, attracted quite a crowd of fans at the Moose hall last evening, the Dixon Stars and the Moose team participating. The game was full of thrills from the start and it was necessary to play three minutes overtime to decide the winner of the contest. The Stars were leading at the half 11 to 4 but the Moose team came back strong in the last half to tie the score and won by a count of 20 to 18. The teams lined up as follows:

Moose—Bertsch, H.; Henderson, R.; Koepke, I.; Farthing, R.; Wittke, C. Stars—Sawyer, R.; Dockery, I.; Andreas, I.; Dempewolf, R.; Winebrenner, C.

Referees—Roy Fred, T. Dunbar.

WRIGHT TO SEEK SEAT IN SENATE

Senator Announces He Will Be Candidate For Present Post

Senator Harry G. Wright of DeKalb today announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to the senate from this district, the 35th. The district comprises the counties of DeKalb, Lee and Whiteside and the entrance of Wright into the race means that there will be a contest for the office. Representative George Dixon of this city, serving his first term as a member of the lower house of the state legislature, announced his candidacy for the senate some time ago.

Petitions bearing the name of Senator Wright were in circulation today in all of the communities of the 35th district.

In announcing his decision to seek re-election, Senator Wright stated that friends from all over the district have urged him to make the race. "Many of them," stated Senator Wright, "have insisted for some time that I seek re-election. At the time I was injured in the automobile accident the suggestion was made that because of my injury I give up the race for state treasurer and announce myself a candidate again for the senate. At that time I thought I would be able to resume my campaign for state treasurer in a short time. A few days ago physicians with whom I was forced to consult told me I would have to give up a state-wide campaign if I had any regard for my health."

Hurt in Auto Accident
Senator Wright fractured his right knee cap in an automobile accident south of DeKalb on state route No. 23 on the morning of November 6, 1929, while enroute to Ottawa to make a campaign speech. A few days later he was operated upon following which he showed rapid progress. It was thought he would be able to resume his campaign in a short time.

Two weeks later he became seriously ill with a kidney trouble. He entered the Mayo Brothers clinic at Rochester, Minn., and after undergoing operation, returned to DeKalb to convalesce. Although still several pounds underweight, he resumed his campaign for state treasurer a few weeks ago.

Last week he began to show the effects of resuming a strenuous campaign and it was then that two Chicago specialists told him to give up his plan of seeking the state office if he wished to safeguard his health.

Senator Wright states that he will be able to carry on a campaign for state senator which does not include the great amount of traveling that a state campaign does. He is showing a very good recovery due, no doubt, to the fact that he has not the worry that a state-wide campaign causes.

West Brooklynites' Fortunate Escape

(Telegraph Special Service.)
DeKalb, Jan. 17.—Luther Kriner and Raymond Danekas of West Brooklyn narrowly escaped serious injury at an early hour this morning on the Lincoln Highway, five miles east of this city when the truck they were driving skidded from the paving and nose-dived into a ditch, a drop of about 12 feet. Danekas was the worst injured of the two and sustained a deep gash in his cheek which required several stitches to close. Kriner escaped with only a minor cut on his head. His companion was taken to the office of a physician at DeKalb where his injury was dressed and both men returned to West Brooklyn.

Kriner was driving an International stock truck, belonging to Walter Acker of West Brooklyn, and Danekas was riding with him. They were returning from Chicago, the truck being unloaded. Near a culvert, the wheels of the truck skidded and the driver lost control of the machine. The truck swerved off the paving, ran through a guard rail fence and struck a reinforced concrete abutment, which was completely torn away, then dived into the creek. At noon today wrecking crews had been unable to remove the truck, which was badly damaged.

Danekas was struck in the face with shattered glass from the broken windows of the car. Both men crawled out through the windshield and were picked up in a passing car and brought to DeKalb.

Dry Informer Held On Liquor Charge

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 17.—(UP)—Frank Eastman, who brought about the conviction of Etta Mae Miller, grandmother, whose life term for sale of liquor was commuted this week, was arrested today charged with a liquor law violation.

Eastman, formerly of the Lansing dry squad, but since dropped, was apprehended on a warrant charging sale of liquor.

One hundred years ago aluminum was a costly luxury. Today it is cheap and a necessity. In 1855 it cost $90 per pound.

PRAIRIEVILLE SCHOOL BURNED LAST NIGHT: LOSS IS $9,000

The Prairieville school, located on the Lincoln Highway at Prairieville was totally destroyed by fire about midnight last night. Tourists on the Lincoln Highway discovered the fire burning in the building and awoke residents residing near the school.

The fire is believed to have started from a defective chimney early last evening and probably burned for some time between the walls and floors before the flames broke through. It had gained considerable headway and although the fire truck from Sterling was summoned the flames had reached a point where it was impossible to check them. The building and all contents were a total loss, the damage being estimated at about $9,000.

which is partially covered by insurance.

Members of the board of directors today were arranging to reopen the classes Monday morning in the Prairieville church, where it was believed that the school children could be accommodated until the wreckage of the old two-story brick structure has been cleared away and a new building erected. It was stated by board members that plans for the erection of a fine modern school structure will be started as soon as possible.

A new heating plant had been installed in the school last fall. The Prairieville school building was one of the oldest in Lee county and many men of prominence received their first education there.

LONDON GREET YANK DELEGATES TO NAVY PARLEY

Stimson Lost Little Time In Beginning Preliminaries

London, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The American delegation to the forthcoming naval conference reached London today and after a cordial welcome plunged rapidly into the preparatory work of the coming meeting.

Within less than an hour of his arrival in the British capital, which next Tuesday will see the delegates of the five chief naval powers engaged in momentous discussion, Secretary of State Stimson was closeted with Prime Minister MacDonald.

Great Britain first welcomed the American delegates at Plymouth, where a picturesque ceremonial accompanied the greeting which the major extended to the Americans who departed from the George Washington at the break of day.

The second welcome was at Paddington Station, London, where in a gray haze of a mild winter afternoon, Foreign Secretary Henderson, A. V. Alexander, the First Lord of the Admiralty, and other high government officials gave the capital's welcome.

Lost Little Time
A few minutes after the special train arrived from Plymouth, Secretary Stimson was enroute to his home and thence to Downing Street for a conference with Prime Minister MacDonal.

Charles G. Dawes, American Ambassador to Great Britain, and Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, both members of the delegation, met their colleagues at Plymouth and the four and one-half hours overland journey to London afforded the first opportunity for the seven American delegates to get together.

They made good use of the time. As soon as the Plymouth ceremonies were completed, Secretary Stimson engaged in a private conversation with Ambassador Dawes and then with Ambassador Gibson. A little later all seven delegates were alone in the special saloon of the car reserved for them.

One of the first subjects the Americans discussed was the question of Mr. MacDonald's statement to newspapermen on Tuesday. From the garbled reports which the American delegation received aboard their ship, the British Prime Minister was credited with saying that he intended to propose the abolition of battleships at the conference beginning Tuesday.

Secretary Stimson was able to learn that Mr. MacDonald said nothing whatever about proposing the abolition of battleships immediately, but that he expressed the British government's doubt of the value of battleships and the British hope that in due time battleships will cease to figure in fleets. That instead of abolishing battleships, the Prime Minister really hopes to bring about an agreement during the forthcoming five power conference to extend the lives of existing battleships.

Secret Documents Of Britain Stolen

London, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Mailbags containing secret documents of the British Air Ministry were stolen by a sensational method today from a messenger who had just left the Ministry offices in Kingsway.

Two mailbags, containing not only important Air Ministry papers but a sum of money, were taken from the office by an employee.

As he wheeled his cart away from the entrance, a dark blue automobile suddenly swerved around nearby billboards and ran up to the sidewalk. A young man leaped from the car, seized the two bags, and leaped back into the automobile.

Before the dazed employee could get assistance, the car was out of sight.

ENDS WITH VICTORY

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Tom Shaugnessy ended his term as manager of the Chicago Blackhawks last night with a 2 to 1 victory over the Boston Bruins. His team was the only one to beat the Bruins twice this season.

Fifteen thousand, three hundred and eighty people—believed to be an all-time hockey league record—saw the Blackhawks trim the Bruins.

Eighteen billion telephone messages over American telephones last year traveled 45 billion miles, or over 480 times the distance from the earth to the sun.

ZERO CARVES NAME IN SNOW COVERED WEST

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Zero carved its name upon the snow covered chest of middle America today. Rivers that had run wild earlier in the week slunk back to their beds, but the cold that checked their rampages brought added misery to persons who had been driven from their homes by the high waters. Many places were drifted high with snow, and in the urban centers sheets of glass carpeted the boulevards.

King Winter Comes To Rescue of Endangered Towns

Coming out of the Rockies, the cold descended upon virtually the entire central and northwest, but it was upon the Mississippi river banks of Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Missouri that it trod heaviest.

A Minneapolis it was 12 below; Keokuk, Ia., was numbered with 6 below and at Quincy, Ill. it was only one degree higher. Down the river, the blast tempered itself; at St. Louis, the thermometer wavered around 5 above, while at Cairo, Ill., it was 13 above.

Colder Tonight
Zero was predicted for Chicago today, accompanied by snow. In the exposed suburbs and surrounding lower Lake Michigan area the mercury was expected to drop to 5 below.

Along many rivers, the flood crest had passed far downstream until now the lower stretches of the Mississippi were expectant of high stages.

In southwestern Indiana the flood condition was still serious. At Vincennes a crisis was expected today in the looked-for crest of the raging Wabash. Spreading throughout the city as the waters rose, a smallpox epidemic numbered 45 cases yesterday and added to the misery of flood and cold.

Red Cross and State Health Department workers assumed control of the relief work in the city and surrounding area.

WINTER TO RESCUE

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 17.—(AP)—King Winter came to the rescue of Vincennes today and wove a pattern of ice along the emergency levees, chinking up the holes and spreading a sheath of protecting ice for a distance of 50 yards in some places where the Wabash river backwater had been slowly eating its way into the city.

Although a danger stage of 26 feet had been expected today, the continued cold weather brought hope that the crisis might be past. Harry T. Watts, a civil engineer, who has been assisting in the flood work, declared the city now would be able to meet even a 27 foot stage.

Govt. Offers Aid
It was not considered likely that the city will find it necessary to call on the government for soldiers from Fort Benjamin Harrison at Indianapolis at it was not thought a crisis requiring troops and Army materials would develop. Officials at Fort Harrison have permission from the War Department to offer any aid necessary.

The American Red Cross took charge of the flood relief work here this morning. Several hundred persons in this vicinity have been driven from their homes.

The spectre of disease somewhat replaced the food fear. The Board of Health prepared to meet an increase in smallpox cases. From five cases a few days ago there now are about fifty cases here. There are also a number of diphtheria and scarlet fever cases.

Flood waters menaced the city water works and the sanitary plant.

EIGHT DEAD IN WEST

Denver, Colo., Jan. 17.—(AP)—East of the blizzard-bound peaks of the Rocky Mountain there lay today a vast land of snow and Arctic temperatures, slashed by the climatic spasms of the winter's worst storm. Approximately one-third of the United States was whipped by frigid winds which brought a temperature of 56 degrees below zero in Montana.

Two persons, Carl Miller, 35, and Mabel Dennis, 28, were frozen to death near Ploche, Nev., bringing to eight the death toll of the killing cold in the last three days.

Last night was one of the most severe in Denver in many years. A blinding blizzard swept the city and long before midnight the snowbound streets virtually were deserted. An official reading at the Weather Bureau early today was 17 degrees below zero and the thermometer still dropped as an icy gale drove down from the northwest.

At Cheyenne the mercury stood at 28 degrees below zero.

180,000 ACRES FLOODED

Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 17.—(AP)—More than 180,000 acres of fertile Arkansas farm land lay under from two to three feet of water today.

Huff Asks For More Sportsmen In Stands

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 17—(UP)—Supporters of college athletics who demand teams at the sacrifice of true sportsmanship were criticized by George Huff, Director of Athletics at the University of Illinois, in an address before the Wabash football squad of 1929.

"I regret the actions of students and townspeople who think they are being loyal when they bet on their team and who make athletic contests the occasion for drinking," he said. Huff paid tribute to the value of college athletics but added there "was less sportsmanship in the stands than on the gridiron and the diamond."

"I sure appreciate your sending me the Lacto-Dextrin. I feel sure it has completely cured me of an awful bowel trouble I had to endure for so many years and could not find anything that would relieve me at all so I praise God and thank the one who has invented and manufactured this wonderful food called Lacto-Dextrin. I am telling everyone about it."—Mrs. M. Order from your Health Food Center—

Plan For Defense Of Patricide Today

St. Louis, Jan. 17—(AP)—Plans for the defense of Alan Schumm, 17-year-old University of Illinois freshman, who during a "frenzy to kill" shot and killed his father and wounded his mother at the family home here the day before he was to have returned to the university to resume his studies, have not been completed, according to Richard C. Coburn, of the law firm headed by Guy Thompson.

The boy's father was office manager of this firm. Coburn has been acting as the boy's attorney. An indictment charging first degree murder was voted by the grand jury yesterday against the 17-year-old patricide.

After his arrest Schumm was placed in the city hospital for examination. Dr. James F. McFadden, neurologist who examined the youth, declined to voice an opinion on his sanity.

Two Hard Punchers Meet This Evening

Chicago, Jan. 17—(AP)—Two of the hardest punchers in the ring, James J. Braddock of New Jersey, and Leo Lomski, the "Aberdeen Assassin," will match right and lefts in the 10 round feature of Jack Dempsey's boxing show at the Coliseum tonight.

The winner had been promised one of the big "shots" in one of the several big matches promoter Dempsey is planning for Chicago this winter. Tonight's fight will be the last in the light heavyweight class for Braddock. Because of weight difficulties, he had decided to enter the heavyweight field.

LaSalle Druggist Found Dead Today

LaSalle, Ill., Jan. 17—(UP)—Joseph Roessler, 45, manager of the Clancy Drug Company here, was found dead in bed here today. Roessler was charged with violation of the prohibition laws, his trial pending. It is believed he died of heart disease aggravated by worry over the prohibition charge.

A message of nine words, "May God bless a long, happy, and prosperous life," was inscribed on a grain of rice and recently sent from Delhi museum to an English official.

POET'S CORNER

THE CLERK

The clerk showeth courtesy, cleverness of tact.
And patience and friendliness, to Ability, kindness and power to attract.
Possessing some traits of the Jew.

Throughout the long day stands the trustworthy clerk
And tries to please whimsical folk
Who think that this servant knows nothing of work.

So they do their best to provoke.
Some customers call and they do not know why.
For they never know their desires.
The clerk must be pleasant and placid, and try
To sell what each person requires.

No matter if all of the goods on the shelf
The fastidious must be shown,
The clerk must forget all the troubles of self
But try to please patron alone.

Sometimes such a task as to clerk in a store
Is filled with contentment and joy
Because of kind words from the friends they adore
Who do not a deed to annoy.

A customer comes for a spool of silk thread;
Another calls for a sheet
It may be a dress or a dainty bedspread
To make the whole purchase complete.

So, weary and footsore, the clerk travels on,
To satisfy needs of a race
Which hustles and hurries and speedeth anon
To lead Father Time in the chase.

The corns may be sore or the bunions may burn.
Or arches be broken and low;
Right back to the counter the clerk will return
To deal with a friend or a foe.

The sarcastic patron, the fidgety one,
The nervous, the haughty, the meek,
The virtuous sinful, the timid, the dun,
Obtain from the clerk what they seek.

A wonderful service the clerk thus performs.
Few moments remain for repose.
With prudent persuasion politely conform
And no partiality shows.

The sagacious clerk knows when to be still
And when sympathy should be shown;
Indulgent to all, the employer to thrill,
Who reaps of the harvest thus sown.

THE FRENCH SETTLERS OF ILLINOIS

In the dark and cold December nights
Which comes in winter's train,
When the cherry fire within burns bright,
And without are sleet and rain
I love to read with strange delight
Old stories o'er again.

Old stories of that by-gone time
When this dear land was young;
When settlers from a distant clime
Would speak in many a tongue.
Of other homes, and youth's sweet prime,
And their native ballads sung.

When thy French settlers, Illinois,
Encamped along thy shore,
And the merry "Coureurs des Bois"
So gayly piled the oar,
And sent their chorus songs of Joy
The lake's blue waters o'er.

When the French peasants crossed the sea,
Another home to find,
And Picardy and Normandy
Lay smiling far behind,
They found amid the forests free
A welcome warm and kind.

O the merry, merry times they knew,
Full many a tale has told,
When all the Western summer through
The sun-shine's shimmering gold
Lay o'er the broad, bright "Common Field,"
Which all alike might hold.

When down the village street,
O'erhung by balconies,
Their cheerful tones and dancing feet
And Norman melodies,
Made all the summer evenings sweet,
O'er-arched by starry skies.

When hardy voyageurs with cheer
Came back from the lakes you see,
—Bela Halderman,

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Ankeny, Inc., Rochelle's newest industrial unit, is diversifying its productive interests according to announcement of General Manager Albert A. Ankeny. The recent plant producing innovation is that of raising radishes and a fine table variety of tomatoes.

At the present time a single greenhouse, covering more than 48,000 square feet of space, has been entirely devoted to the production of these vegetables. Further, it is reported that several large vegetable merchants have bid for practically the entire crop of the Ankeny company's newest vegetable venture.

Although the raising of fine cucumbers is the principal business of Ankeny, Inc., there are seasonable markets for various vegetable varieties which has caused Mr. Ankeny to take advantage of such markets.

As Floods Imperiled Mid-West

With the worst floods since 1913 threatening Ohio and Indiana, hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes while workers fought to dam the overflowing rivers. The upper picture shows where the city of Vincennes, Ind., built a mile-long sand bag levee after 200 residents were driven from their homes by rising waters of the Wabash river. The lower picture shows the water within a few inches of the floor of the bridge on national highway No. 50 when the river rose far above flood stage.

And wonderingly would hear
Their tales of prowess, free
And they gayly sang for maiden's ear
'L'amour me revile.

Amid the village wood,
With Indian wigwags gathered near,
A dusty multitude stood.
Thy villages so blithe and gay,
Thy maidens sweet and fair,
Thy primal days have passed away,
Among the things that were:

Gone with the dwellers of the fort,
Who stately presence bore,
Who in the gay King Louis' court
Had mingled oft of yore,
And still, amid these Western wilds,
Their country's costume wore.

Ah! therefore do I love to sit,
These stormy winter nights,
While fire-lights flickering shadows flit
Along the hearth like sprites,
And think of these old primal days,
With all their rare delight.

For thy bring the summer to my heart,
And sun-shine to my room,
All brightest forms to being start,
They chase away the gloom,
And mid them all is wafted past
The ripened grape's perfume.

Like that which haunts my memories
Of a summer passed away,
When underneath blue skies
I wandered day by day,
Through the quiet old village,
Which in sun-shine, lay.

The village songs, the merry vintage chime,
Still haunt my heart, this winter's night,
Like tales of olden time,

THE TRUE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Springfield, Mass.—It was in one of the poorest sections of the city. The teacher had made an effort to instill in the hearts of the needy little children the true spirit of Christmas. She had tried to lead them to feel that Christmas stands not for a multiplicity of material desires, principally for one's self, but for a deeper truer sense of loving kindness.

On the day school closed for the holidays there was a party. With the ice cream a gingerbread boy with a happy clove smile and jaunty chocolate sweater and cap was provided for each child. The children were delighted with them and could scarcely find words in which to express their admiration. Many of them wrapped theirs carefully in paper napkins to take home.

In the midst of the festivities the teacher discovered that the last two gingerbread boys had been broken and although everyone present had his there was none for little Frances, who could not be present. The happy murmur subsided for a moment and then little John said with a smile, "Frances may have mine, Miss R.—and I'll take home a broken one."

The children were thoughtful for another moment and again the silence was broken, this time from another child with the comment, "That is the true spirit of Christmas, isn't it, Miss R.—?"

And she humbly answered "Yes."

Mrs. Gann Attained Highest Honor

Washington, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann attained the highest social honor Washington can offer at the President's dinner honoring her brother, Vice President Curtis, last night—but none of her social rivals were present to witness the triumph.

The Vice President was the only government official among thirty-four guests.

As a result none of those who have contested Mrs. Gann's claim, as sister and official hostess of the Vice President, to the honors to a second lady of the land, saw her enter the dining room on the arm of President Hoover and take her seat at his right at the table.

Gann Walska Won Right to Residence

New York, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Mme. Ganna Walska has won her battle to establish the right of wives to maintain legal residences separate from their husbands.

The customs court here, by unanimous decision, exempted the opera singer from payment of duty on effects she brought into this country a year ago on a visit to her husband, Harold F. McCormick of Chicago. Customs authorities had assessed the duties on the theory that the residential status of a wife was that of her husband, but the court held that this common law ruling had been punned and recognized Paris as her home.

Creamy Frosting

2 tablespoons cream

2 tablespoons butter

1 teaspoon vanilla

1-4 teaspoon lemon extract

1-3 cups sifted confectioner's sugar.

Heat cream to boiling. Add other ingredients and beat 2 minutes. Let stand 3 minutes and beat 1 minute. Frost top and sides of cake.

Mrs. Edw. Fisher

Happily Surprised

Mrs. Edward F. Fisher of the Bend was happily surprised by a group of friends who arrived to help her celebrate her birthday. The party was planned and happily carried out by her daughter.

After the bounteous supper the time was spent by visiting. At a late hour the guests departed wishing her many happy returns of the day and leaving her many beautiful gifts.

Monthly Meeting

With Mrs. Street

The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church had their monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lester Street. The president, Mrs. Bills presided. The regular business of the society was taken care of and the special work for the meeting was the Home Nursery at Cincinnati, Ohio. Two articles pertaining to this home were read. One new member to the society was reported. Mrs. Winnebrenner had charge of the devotionals. Mrs. Hobbs had charge of the program and read a delightful story after which Miss Seals gave the chapter "The City—Counter Forces" from the study book, "The Crowded Ways."

The committee with Mrs. Ware as chairman, served tempting refreshments.

Aid Society Changes

Name: Elects Officers

The Kingdom-Mt. Union Aid Society met Wednesday, Jan. 15, at the home of Mrs. John Stanley on the Trussell road.

A delicious scramble dinner was served at noon to a large number of members and friends.

It was decided at this meeting that a new name be given to the society.

Several appropriate names were suggested. The name finally accepted was the Indian name, "The Wawokiye Club," pronounced Wah-wee-kee-yuh, and meaning One who helps, be adopted.

An election of officers was held at this meeting and the following were elected for the ensuing year.

Mrs. Edward Johnson—President.

Mrs. J. E. Hill—Vice President.

Mrs. Theodore Hintz—Secretary.

Mrs. Ralph Livan—Treasurer.

Mrs. George Patterson—Planist.

The new officers will be installed at the next meeting.

The business for the old year was brought to a close. It was found that the ladies had enjoyed a most successful year and many homes had been brightened through the efforts of the society.

After the business meeting a delightful program consisting of games, readings and instrumental music was enjoyed.

The guests left for their homes late in the afternoon voting Mrs. Stanley a most gracious hostess.

The next meeting of the Wawokiye club will be held with Mrs. Ralph Livan at her new home in Nachusa.

The program committee for the next time is composed of Mrs. Hintz, Mrs. Livan and Mrs. Claude Guynn.

January Meeting of Prairieville P. T. A.

The January meeting of the Prairieville P. T. A. was held at the school house Wednesday evening.

The program was given as follows:

Two songs, "Snow Flakes" and "Wake! It is Morning" were given by the pupils of the grammar room.

Two songs "The Little Brown Sparrow" and "Bunny Rabbit" by the primary room.

W. S. Dimmitt, superintendent of the Rock Falls schools was the speaker of the evening. His subject was: "What May Be Done to Improve the Schools."

Mr. Dimmitt's talk was such that everyone was given food for thought as to what shall be taught to our girls and boys to prepare them for our rapidly changing modes of living.

Mr. Dimmitt also stressed beautiful and healthful surrounding for the child in school as well as at home. He spoke of the need of improving libraries and equipment, and of obtaining the best teachers.

He said, "Cooperation between parents, teachers, school board, school executives and pupils will do the most to improve our schools." The program committee is to be congratulated on their obtaining Mr. Dimmitt whose wide experience made his address especially valuable.

Accordeon and harmonica music by Mr. Oelrichs completed the program.

The hospitality committee named for February are Mrs. Sol Rutt, Mrs. N. C. Drury, and Mrs. LeRoy Powers. A bake sale is to be held in the near future. Mrs. Charles Reed, Mrs. J. B. Reaver and Mrs. Geo. Wechsler compose the committee in charge.

CORSET REBELLION GRIPS FLORIDA GALS

Palm Beach—(AP)—This season will be remembered by Palm Beach as the year of the great corset war—the conflict of the stays.

With the long skirt and the raised waist line, stylists have ruled corsets indispensable but some society leaders have rebelled.

They were served by the Hospitality committee.

The attendance was somewhat smaller than usual because of the weather, bad roads and sickness. One new member has been added since the last meeting.

American Legion

Auxiliary Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary, Dixon Unit No. 12, held a very interesting and enjoyable meeting Wednesday afternoon in Legion Hall.

Lack of attendance owing to bad walks and sickness, was made up in interest and enthusiasm. The reports of the several chairmen of the committees were splendid, many "thank you" notes were read by the secretary for donations of money, clothing and remembrances to the sick.

The Department report of Christmas work by the Legion and the Auxiliary was a wonderful Christmas for all the veterans in hospitals and all children of World War men.

Stella Landlott, Dept. Chairman Child Welfare says: "Our Christmas party at Normal was lovely. I'm sure that no children ever had a nicer time. We had lots of goodies to eat and balloons and everything that makes a party complete."

Membership is again brought to all units, urging payment of dues, also new members. Illinois has challenged Iowa to have a greater percentage of our 1930 membership quota by Jan. 30, than they will have registered at headquarters.

The all-day meeting held at the home of Mrs. Jesse Gardner last week was well attended. A beautiful picnic dinner was served at noon and about 25 pounds of carpet rags were sewed.

The Auxiliary ladies are to have a card party, time to be arranged later.

Mrs. Dorothy Teschendorf and Mrs. Ruby McIntyre have this in charge.

The first meeting of the unit in February will be a social affair. A patriotic program will be given. Members may invite their friends to attend. The committee will serve refreshments.

The Auxiliary Bulletins were distributed to the ladies present, and the meeting closed in regular form.

Employees Local

Stores Enjoyed

Sleighride Parties

S. M. Schwartz, manager of the local Kline department store entertained the employees of the store everyone participating reports a most enjoyable evening. A ride of over five miles was enjoyed and then the happy crowd returned to the store where chicken sandwiches and coffee were disposed of in short order, due to hearty appetites in the frosty air. Afterwards games and dancing to the store radio provided ample diversion for the remainder of the eventful evening. Mine Host Schwartz is a royal entertainer.

Montgomery Ward Frolic.

The merry sound of sleigh bells

is one of the common sounds of the evening at the present time and Wednesday evening one of the gayest crowds who would "a-sleighing" go, was that composed of the employees and the genial manager, J. E. Leahigh, of the Montgomery Ward store. A ride several miles into the country was enjoyed and the return to the store on Galena Avenue was followed by music and games and the serving of a delicious luncheon. Everyone attending reports it one of the most delightful evenings of the winter.

The Fourth Annual "Nicht Wi' Burns" At Baptist Church

On Thursday evening, Jan. 23, the fourth annual "Nicht Wi' Burns," will be held at the Baptist church in Dixon and all are invited to attend and spend an evening in Scotland, illustrated by song, picture and story. Scenes will be shown which have been especially imported from overseas, and Rev. Marshall describes these scenes with the ardor of the true Scot. If there is anything you wish to know about Bobbie Burns hear Rev. Marshall in his lecture next Thursday evening and listen to the beautiful story of his life and works, told in Rev. Marshall's inimitable manner and with appropriate and delightful music. The program follows:

Invocation Rev. J. Frank Young, D.D.

A VALUABLE LEGISLATOR.

Hon. John P. Devine has announced his candidacy for reelection as minority representative from this district at Springfield. He should be returned to the legislature without opposition.

Mr. Devine runs on the Democratic ticket. Probably it is a good thing for some Republican candidates that he does not run on the Republican ticket. But he is a Democrat and a good one, if such a term can be applied to a Democrat. By that we mean that he is a staunch partisan. And that is alright. We admire him for it.

But John Devine does not let his party affiliations interfere with being a good American, a good Illinoisan and loyal to his state and district and home county. He serves his Democratic party to the fullest and battles always well and effectively for Democracy, but at the same time there is no member of the legislative body at Springfield who has a greater interest in his home district or who would do more or go farther for his home people, regardless of politics.

John Devine's influence at the state capitol is so powerful and so well directed that he is recognized as one of the most valuable leaders in either party and the Democrats of the 35th senatorial district owe it to the entire state to return him to office so that he may continue to render valuable service to Illinois.

DANGEROUS DRIVING.

When driving your car these days keep a watchful eye out for people walking in the streets, and children on their sleds. The kids are entitled to have their fun coasting and should have it without danger. The sidewalks are hard to walk on and many people have to walk in the streets. They have this right and should have the right of way. Of course both children and grownups should be careful to keep out of the way of cars but the motorist must supply the caution the youngsters naturally lack. If your car kills someone in the street it will not help the situation much no matter who is wrong.

NOT SUCH A BAD IDEA.

A good many rather strange marital compacts have been given publicity in recent years, ranging from the companionate business on up—or down; but the Philadelphia couple who agreed to dissolve their marriage in two years if, by that time, they had not become parents, seem to have sprung a new one.

At that, this particular compact isn't so bad. After all, a marriage is not complete without children. And while having children may not be the sole reason for wedlock, nature intended it to be the chief one. This young couple are not so far wrong, after all.

A juror in New York was found to be deaf after a trial had progressed several hours. It must be very hard to find out whether or not a juror is deaf.

Arizona means to keep her dinosaur tracks. That ought to inspire Kansas and Texas to frame their jack-rabbit footprints.

In New York the milk companies are experimenting with rubber shoes for the horses. But how is anyone going to know when it's time to end the poker game?

While President Hoover was conferring with those big railroad officials, he should have said a little something about the way of an engineer with a Pullman in the yards.

A Salvation Army officer says religion is making more progress now than ever before. Something of the sort was to be expected—with a stock market like that.

The same country that gave the Kellogg peace pact to the world also has a man named Pat Hurley as secretary of war.

A naturalist has found a bald-headed eagle. We didn't know naturalists ever went around snooping in the revues.

What this country needs is a flock of robots to do service in dentists' chairs.

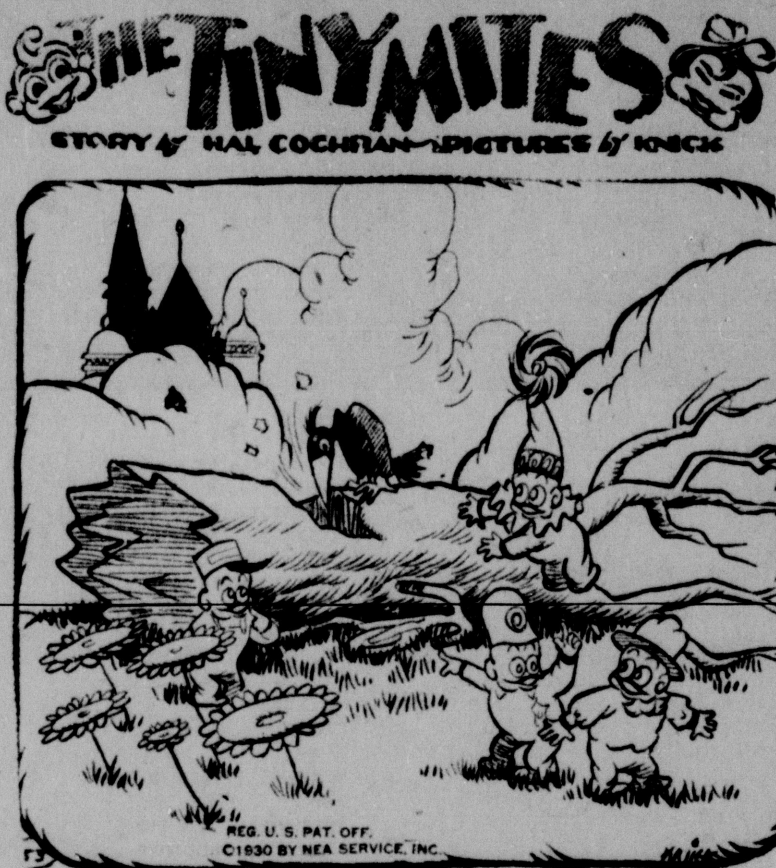

Chemistry now has divided an atom into two parts. Probably the result of research with drug store sandwiches.

The worried Tinies one and all just stood and watched the big tree fall. There wasn't anything that they could do to save their bike. At last the tree lit on the ground and settled after one rebound. "Our bike is wrecked," yelled Clowny, "and I fear we'll have to hike."

"Oh, wait a minute," Scouty said. "Some crazy thought popped in your head. Come on now, let's inspect the bike. It may be safe and sound. The tree that fell, fell rather slow. I know because I saw it go. And, too, the bike may have been saved by softness of the ground."

You, but let me see you move that trunk. I'll bet it can't be done. Though four of us may work for fair, I'll bet that tree will stay right there." The Tinies found that he was right. The work was far from fun.

Just then a big bird flew near-by. It said: "Hello, there, Tinies. I have come to help you get your bike from underneath that tree. You're much too small to lift the thing, so I will make my long beak sing. I am a kind wood-pecker. Now keep your eyes on me."

The bird then settled on the tree and soon was sawing can be. He pecked and pecked and pecked some more. "Hip, hip, hurrah for you!" said Scouty. "If you work real fast, I'm sure the tree trunk will not last so very long. It's hard to wait until it's cut in two."

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A serious crisis faces Crane College's basketball team. It can't get enough games with strong enough opponents.

The "Tiny Tigers" have swept through all competition for two seasons undefeated.

"If I don't get competition to feed them, they'll get fat and lazy," growled Coach C. P. Smith who is burning up wires without success for more games.

SHIRES SAYS HE WILL HEED HIGH
COMMISSIONER

He Will Accept Advice Of Judge Landis When They Confer

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—If Charles Arthur (The Great) Shires makes an agreement Monday with Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis to quit the professional prize ring for baseball, he will have approximately $50,000 or one-fifth of the nest egg he is aiming at.

Ever since the fighting White Sox first baseman attracted 18,000 customers at Boston recently for his fight with Al Spohrer, he has been flooded with attractive offers for boxing matches. A Chicago promoter, presumably the Chicago Stadium, has offered him $35,000 for two matches, while promoters in St. Louis, Boston, New York and Philadelphia want his services, swelling the financial inducements to $50,000.

"I'll tell it to Judge Landis; he'll tell me what to do and I'll do it," said the great one in discussing his impending conference with baseball's High Commissioner. "I think a lot of Judge Landis. He's a friend of mine and the advice he gives me is good enough for me."

There was every indication today that Commissioner Landis would merely give Shires a fatherly talk, advise him to make a humble apology to the White Sox for fighting with former Manager "Lena" Blackburn and sign up at a reasonable figure for the 1930 campaign. Harry Grabner, secretary of the White Sox, has refused to comment on the case other than to say the club would be able to act when Shires was through with Landis.

OPPOSED BY NINE

Philadelphia, Jan. 17.—(UP)—Art (The Great) Shires, ball player and pugilist, met with unexpected difficulties in attempting to fulfill his prediction that he "would be a bigger success at basketball than at boxing."

He was given a chance at forward on the Spha quintet when that team met and defeated Wilmington last night. To his dismay the great one found that instead of opposing five men he was opposing nine. None of his teammates would pass him the ball.

After eleven minutes of play the Sphas were trailing by 12 to 9. Managed Eddie Gottlieb restored harmony on his team by removing Shires and the Sphas won, 38 to 29.

SPORT BRIEFS

BY UNITED PRESS

Chicago—George Trafton, Chicago pro football player, the only man who has been able to defeat C. Arthur (The Great) Shires, fighter and baseball player combined, won his second professional fight last night when he scored a technical knockout over Rudy Hoffman in the fourth round.

Liverpool—Alf Howard of Liverpool won the lightweight championship of Europe from Francois Sybille of Belgium, on a foul in the eighth round last night.

Washington.—Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators is reported to have placed outfielder Goose Goslin and infielder Buddy Myers on the trading block.

New York—Jim London of St. Louis defeated Nazzarino Poggi of Italy after 25 minutes of wrestling in a finish bout at New York Coliseum last night.

GREAT PACER DEAD

Taylorville, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Hedge-wood Boy, one of the greatest pacing sires the race track has ever known and a member of the great pacing team with Lady Maud C, died here this morning at age 28. He was retired eighteen years ago. The team pairing record of 2:02½ set by Hedge-wood Boy and Lady Maud C, stood for ten years. Hedge-wood Boy is the sire of 160 pacers with records less than 2:30 and fifty with less than 2:10.

No Changes In A.

L. Staff Arbiters

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—No changes are anticipated in the personnel of the American League umpiring staff for 1930.

Ernest Barnard, president of the league, yesterday issued a call to all arbiters who worked last season, to report for their annual meeting in his office February 12 and 13. Rules interpretations and mistakes of last year will be discussed.

Thomas Connolly, who was forced to quit toward the end of last season because of illness, reports he has recovered and will be back next season. Other arbiters are William Dinneen, Richard Mallin, Clarence Owens, William Guthrie, William Campbell, George Moriarty, George Hildebrand, Emmett Ormsby, William McGowan, Roy Van Grafton and Harry Geisel.

Young Boxer Gets
Chance At a Title

Paris, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Yvon Trevidic, an 18-year-old youth from Brittany, is probably the youngest boxer in the history of the prize ring ever to get a crack at a title.

His chance comes tomorrow night when he meets Frankie Genaro of New York, generally recognized world's champion in the fly-weight class, at the Velodrome d'Hiver over the 12-round route.

Trevidic, a red-headed, fiery fly-weight, turned professional a year ago after he had cleaned up all the amateurs in France.

Genaro, who has been suffering from a boil under his right arm pit, had to ask for a postponement after an operation, as the battle originally was scheduled for Jan. 11. He does not yet appear in the pink of condition but nevertheless is favored to defeat the youngster at odds of 8 to 5.

Genaro's right to the world's fly-weight championship is in dispute in this country. The little New Yorker holds the National Boxing Association's 112-pound championship but the New York State Athletic Commission does not recognize any title-holder in the division.

Rosenfeld Sent
To Toledo Team

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Max Rosenfeld, outfielder, has been released on option to Toledo of the American Association by the Brooklyn Dodgers. It makes the second year that Robins have sent Max to Toledo where he batted .350 last year.

The Brooklyn club mailed out contracts to 37 players today. Those who will give the most trouble over signing perhaps will be Arthur (Dizzy) Vance and Floyd C. (Babe) Herman.

Vance, after winning a $25,000 contract last spring had a disappointing season and the Dodgers are expected to cut in his salary which Dizzy may or may not decide to accept. Herman is basing his arguments for a substantial increase on the fact that he led National League hitters for some time during the 1929 season and wound up the campaign with an extremely healthy average of .381.

Whether the Babe's idea of a substantial increase agrees with that of the club remains to be seen.

Iowa's Track Team
Out Of Big Meets

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The University of Iowa track team, annually one of the strongest in the collegiate field, may find itself barred from every important meet in the country this year because of Iowa's ouster from the Western Conference.

Under conference rules, no member is permitted to compete with a suspended member. This directors of such meets as the Penn. Texas, Drake and Kansas relays appear certain to meet with the alternative of inviting Iowa and losing the entries of the Big Nine or barring Iowa and inviting Big Nine teams.

The University of Illinois, member of the conference, has refused to include the Hawkeyes in its list of invitations to more than 200 colleges and universities for the annual Illinois indoor relay carnival, March 15, on that ruling.

Canzoneri Meets
Berg Of England

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, erstwhile featherweight champion, and Jack (Kid) Berg of England tangle in a 10 round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight with a shot at Sammy Mandell's lightweight title perhaps awaiting the winner.

Present plans of the Garden are to match the winner of tonight's battle against Al Singer, Bronx idol, the ultimate survivor to meet Mandell for the title in an outdoor show this summer.

Canzoneri, one of the finest fighting machines in the business, is an 8 to 5 favorite over the Englishman.

Make New Rule For
Poughkeepsie Meet

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Drastic penalties to prevent a repetition of the wild scenes of the last Poughkeepsie Regatta have been decided upon by the Intercollegiate Rowing Association.

Last year several crews were late at the starting line and the race was rowed in such rough water that four crews were swamped. Under new rules adopted by the Board of Steewards yesterday, any crew not at the starting line on time will be disqualified and new starts will be permitted only in the case of actual breakage of equipment.

William the Conqueror ordered that all persons, under penalty of severe punishment, should extinguish their fires and lights and go to bed at the ringing of a bell every night at eight o'clock.

OF CHRISTIANS

Dixon Christian Church to Be Host To Many Other Churches

Next Monday, the Christian Church, Dixon, will be host to twenty-nine sister churches in Northwest Illinois, in a mid-winter Evangelistic Rally, the fourth of the kind to be held in this section since the inauguration of the Pentecost Anniversary Campaign. This campaign is to climax with this year's Easter and Pentecost Day observances. And next Autumn, in the new million-and-a-half dollar National City Christian Church, Washington, the first World's Convention for this Brotherhood will be held by representatives of the twenty-three countries wherein the Disciples have established congregations.

The thirty churches co-operating held his present office, and has won a gracious recognition in interdenominational circles, as well.

Dr. H. H. Peters of Bloomington, and S. H. Zandt of Galesburg will assist Mr. Bader, as additional outside speakers, while several pastors of the District have accepted brief assigned topics and numbers on the Program. Mr. Arthur Pyke of Love's Park church, Rockford, will have charge of the music.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Church will serve a luncheon at the church, when numerous booster talks will be made with regard to the Washington "World Convention" next October.

PROGRAM

NACHUSA HOTEL

THURSDAY, JAN. 23rd

Office Hours, 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.

ONE DAY ONLY

Dr. Kroening is a regular graduate of medicine and is licensed by the State of Illinois. He is reliable and has many patients. He will give his professional services free of charge to all those who call on him this visit.

According to his method of treatment he does not operate for chronic appendicitis, gall stones, ulcers of stomach, goitre, tonsils or adenoids.

He has to his credit many wonderful results in diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels, blood, skin, nerves, heart, kidney, bladder, bed wetting, catarrh, weak lungs, rheumatism, sciatica, leg ulcers, hemorrhoids or piles, and slow growth in children.

If you have been ailing for any length of time do not fail to call, as improper measures rather than disease are very often the cause of your long-standing trouble.

Remember above date and that his services on this trip will be free, making only a charge for medicine in cases which are accepted for treatment.

Married ladies must be accompanied by their husbands.

Would Convert Old Library Into Jail

East St. Louis, Ill., Jan. 16—(UP)—Conversion of the old public library into a federal jail for prisoners from the St. Louis area, is the suggestion made by A. R. Clark, United States Marshall for the Eastern District of Illinois, to Attorney General Mitchell. The suggestion is the result of a recent interview with police officials here who lamented the crowded condition of the city jail which is now used to house federal prisoners.

Here's the vacuum can that holds Hills Bros Coffee roasted a few pounds at a time

Roasting coffee a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk makes a flavor-difference that words cannot describe

Controlled Roasting is the reason for this difference in flavor. By this continuous process, invented and used exclusively by Hills Bros., only a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters. Every berry is roasted evenly and the flavor is perfectly developed. Bulk-roasting methods can never be as accurate as Hills Bros.' process. Hills Bros. Coffee is sold by grocers everywhere. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

ERRORGRAMS

That's Scrambled

RETIPUC

It ought to be hung!

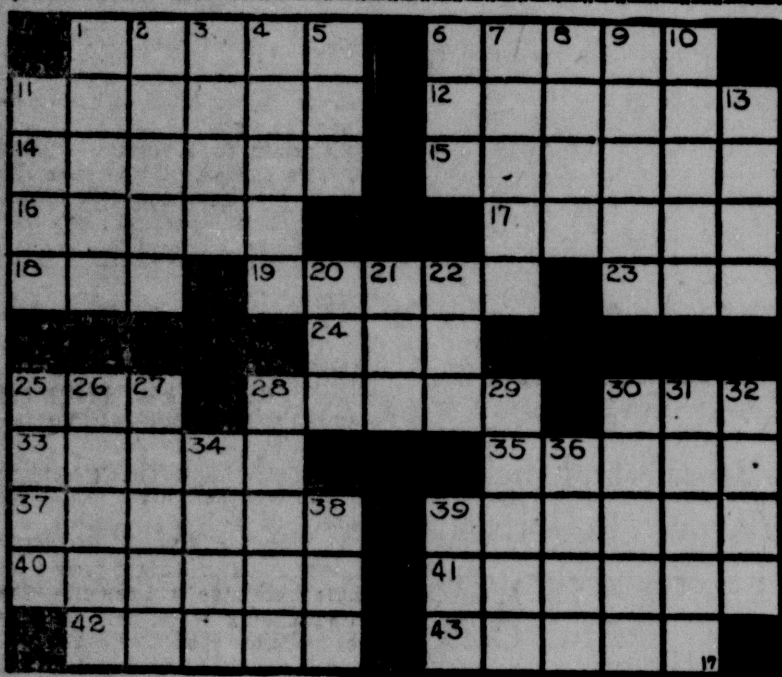

(Copyright, 1930, NEA Service, Inc.)

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistakes and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

THURSDAY'S CORRECTIONS

(1) One of the sails is missing from the windmill. (2) The boy's name is Alfred, as indicated by the signature on the drawing board, and it is spelled incorrectly in the girl's conversation. (3) The camel is an Arabian dromedary, which has one hump instead of a Bactrian camel, which has two humps. (4) The letter E is missing from the alphabet on the drawing board. (5) The scrambled word is TUMBLERS.

HEALTH WRECK WHEN STARTED WITH GLY-CAS

Had No Appetite, Too Weak
For Any Real Work and
No Medicine Could
Help Him Before.

Mr. Joseph Berglez, 1227 Third St., Ottawa, Ill., is among thousands of former suffering people throughout this section who have found complete new health in Gly-Cas, the amazing vegetable medical discovery, where medicine after medicine had previously entirely failed in their cases.

MR. BERGLEZ.

"I had been unable to regain my health and strength following an accident about a year ago when I lost a considerable amount of blood," Mr. Berglez states. "My whole system had become weakened and I didn't have the strength to do any real work. No food appealed to me, for I lost my appetite any my stomach and bowels were so disordered that what little I did eat gave me no strength. People kept telling me that this Gly-Cas was a splendid remedy for rebuilding the system, but even when I decided to try it, I had little faith in the medicine as so many things had failed to help me before. But it wasn't over two weeks after I began using Gly-Cas that I realized it was one preparation that could actually do what's claimed for it. There hasn't been a time in the past year that I've felt within 100 per cent as well as I do right now. Gly-Cas has restored my appetite and I have no stomach distress at all, my weight has increased and new strength given my whole system. When you get relief like I have, it surely makes a person know that Gly-Cas is simply wonderful."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, 504 Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. Charters; Amboy, Aschenbrenner Drug; Compton, W. H. Hills; Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

Toughest of Old Hang-On Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling along towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight old cough that lingers on and one with the most persistent devilishness, then you need a real cough medicine—and the real destroyer of tough old coughs is Broncholine Emulsion.

The cough may be so tantalizing that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that's just the kind of a cough that Broncholine likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months' cough quit cold and disappear.

Ask Campbell's White Cross Drug Store for a bottle of Broncholine Emulsion. There's no dope in it—no chloroform, and a couple of teaspoonfuls will usually end any ordinary cough.—Adv.

Now Has Rosy Cheeks, Red Lips, Clear Eyes, Smooth Complexion
Hillsdale, Ill.—"I was rundown, pale and couldn't sleep or eat. My nerves were threadbare. Any little thing annoyed me greatly. I spent much time and money with doctors in search of health. Formerly mother had taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and she recommended it to me and I was surprised at the result. Now I have rosy cheeks, red lips, clear eyes, smooth complexion, and lots of 'pep.' I sleep soundly and have an astounding appetite. Hard work never makes me tired like it used to."—Miss C. L. BEGIN HERE TODAY

JUDITH CAMERON married ARTHUR KNIGHT, executive of a New York publishing house in which she is employed. They sail for a six weeks' honeymoon in Bermuda. Knight is a widower with an 18-year-old daughter, TONY, who is in Europe, and a son, JUDITH, 16, at school. In his infatuation he overlooks the fact that Judith is not communicative about her past life.

After the first week in Bermuda a cablegram arrives announcing that Tony Knight is coming home. Arthur tells Judith they must return at once to meet her. Since neither the girl nor boy knows of the father's remarriage, Judith is skeptical of her welcome. The fear proves well founded.

Arthur and Judith reach the long island home just one day before Tony's boat docks. Next morning Knight meets his daughter but when they arrive at the house Tony ignores Judith and rushes to her own room. Knight tries to reason with the girl and later assures Judith the difficulty will soon be settled. He goes to his office. Late that afternoon Tony confronts her stepmother and exclaims: "You're going to get out!"

Knight enters the house to overhear this, and compels Tony to apologize. She does so grudgingly. After dinner a young man calls for Tony and she leaves the house with him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIV

"MICKEY" MORTIMER, in the annals of the family and on membership lists of half a dozen impressive clubs, was Frederick K. Mortimer, but even his mother had long since ceased to call him any thing but "Mickey."

He belonged to the Philadelphia Mortimers—which is to say he "belonged."

The bank of which Mickey Mortimer's father was a director was not among the country's 10 largest and yet it was not so far down the list. The son had not inherited his father's zeal for economics.

Mickey found the warm and sunny sands of Italian water resorts much more agreeable during the winter months than anything he had ever observed on Wall Street. He also found polo on Long Island a good deal pleasanter in July than trying to sell bonds. Mickey's income was steady. He was a vice president of something or other (really two something-or-others) but if he could have told you the name of either it would have been quite remarkable. He was as careless about business affairs as he was about the lady who happened to be his wife.

Mickey had a daughter, too, an attractive youngster with yellow curls, photographed occasionally with other children at a society fair at Newport or digging in the beach at Miami. These photographs generally appeared in the Sunday newspaper gravure sections. When ever he saw one of these pictures Mickey looked at it and wondered how the kid was getting along.

The child lived with her mother. Mrs. Mickey Mortimer had had a rather good part in a musical comedy playing 18 months on Broadway before she and young Mortimer had gone down to City Hall to be married there by an official. That had been four years earlier. Mrs. Mickey Mortimer was very beautiful. It is significant that in family tribunals the Philadelphia Mortimers sided with her instead of her husband.

Mickey didn't spend much time in New York. When he was there he sometimes called around to see his wife. Sometimes not. Mickey, who above all things sought pleasure, loathed "scenes."

It was in Mickey Mortimer's swagger green coupe that Tony Knight was riding the first evening after her arrival in New York

She saw a cab stop in front of the house and a slim youth step out.

It was Mickey himself who was driving the car and who vetoed her suggestion to visit the Casino.

They couldn't go there, he said, because Florence was likely to be there and Florence (as Tony very well knew) was his wife.

Mickey and Tony had met at Madrid. Later, after Tony and her aunt had returned to Paris, Mickey came after them. He had to have playfellows, a very great number of them, did Mickey Mortimer. Tony Knight, as Mickey himself expressed it, was a "devilish enticing little trick."

The girl was quite captivated by his airs and his ardor. She began to make excuses and avoid engagements with Count Bodanzky.

Tony's Aunt Helena disapproved of this and very shortly Tony and her Aunt Helena disapproved of each other. They did it in such loud tone, and for such a long while that the girl cabled her father, sent off her trunks and caught the first boat for New York.

Mickey Mortimer was on the same boat.

It was Mortimer's custom, when his companion was a very pretty girl and after about the fifth cocktail, to state that he was "divorcing his wife." It was a good beginning for the long story of how fate was abusing him. Sometimes this story would become so pathetic that only music would drown his sadness. That meant that Mickey would start singing, and when Mickey sang there simply was no likelihood at all of guessing where that party would end.

The truth was he was not and could not divorce his wife. Neither was Mrs. Mortimer divorcing her husband.

Mickey didn't mind. He had found that a good looking young man of wealth never need face any dearth of feminine companions.

He and Tony visited a biased, atypical revue that evening, dined at a supper club which was not one of Florence Mortimer's favorites, danced at two others and shortly after four a. m. arrived at the Knight residence. Tony entered the house with her own latchkey and Mortimer drove away.

At 11 o'clock next morning Judith sent Harriet to see if Miss Tony would like to have her breakfast. The maid reported Miss Tony was still asleep.

At 12 Tony came downstairs languidly. She wore a lounging suit again, this one of poppy colored stiff silk, very boyish looking. She ignored Judith but told Mrs. Wheeler she would like breakfast sent to her room.

Thus for three days the routine of the Knight household remained. Judith and Arthur breakfasted in the dining room at eight o'clock. Judith conferred with Mrs. Wheeler and Cora devoted herself to housewifely tasks during the morning. Tony arose at noon and called for a breakfast tray to be sent to her room. Each afternoon she left the house, returning about five o'clock.

At seven Arthur and Judith and Tony dined together, and by nine o'clock Tony had sought common companions of her own.

It was a state of armed neutrality. Judith, hoping each day for some slight weakening toward friendliness, had to content herself with an occasional civil remark during dinner.

Tony's reasoning seemed to be that if she could not rid the house of her stepmother she could at least pretend that Judith was not there.

It wasn't a cheering atmosphere in which to prepare for Christmas.

And yet the holiday season was about to begin. It was a time that Arthur Knight had been looking forward all year to—the time when both his children would be home.

Judith felt that she was the one who should find some means of slipping out of the scene.

She bought huge lovely wreaths with gay red ribbons, candles, poinsettia plants and greens to make the house festive. She ordered a tree which was as high and handsome as Arthur had specified. She busied herself on shopping trips and conspired with Cora on what they both hoped would be masterly menus.

Determinedly cheerful, Judith reported to Arthur each night that affairs were "going splendidly."

Then on Saturday morning Arthur Junior arrived.

Judith had been out on an errand. She saw a cab stop in front of the house and a slim youth step out. The boy had just reached the entrance of the house and was about to open the door when he saw her turning in at the walk.

He stopped and waited until she reached the steps. Then he looked at her seriously and said:

"Are you—Judith?"

"Yes," the girl said eagerly. "And I'm sure you're Arthur. I'm so glad you've come home! We've been expecting you but I didn't know you'd arrive until afternoon. Your father will be so pleased."

She was delighted to think that he had recognized her and spoken, and so her words rushed on, trying to let the boy know she was grateful, not feeling exactly sure she was saying the right thing.

Judith would never have guessed that this was Arthur Knight's son. He was taller than she was, built slightly but with the promise that years would "fill him out."

The boy had gray eyes which had studied Judith ever since he had first seen her. He wore a gray suit and overcoat and a cap which emphasized the boyish look about him. Hair which was light brown and curly showed beneath the cap.

Judith felt that she had been saying too much. She blushed.

"Do let's go in," she finished. "It's cold and I'm keeping you out here freezing."

The lad held the door back politely and Judith entered. Harriet appeared and took the wraps. All the while Arthur Junior's manner was the acme of courtesy and yet it was disturbing.

He was so formal. Without a

Good Thoughts for Good People

GOOD THOUGHTS

As men understand God and comprehend His character, they inevitably foresee the brotherhood of man—Where infinite Love reigns supreme, no hatred, jealousy or greed can abide.

Christian Science Journal.

How different the peace of God from that of the world! It calms the passions, preserves the purity of conscience, is inseparable from righteousness, unites us to God and strengthens us against temptations.

Fenelon

The central thought of religion is of peace that is beyond the unrest of life, of a harmony that transcends all the desires, of a unity of purpose which works through all the conflict of the forces of nature, and the still more intense conflict of the wills of men.

Edward Caird.

The claim to the right to freedom, the claim to the right of equality, with the resultant right to self-government—the rule of the people—have no foundation other than the common brotherhood of man derived from the common fatherhood of God.

Calvin Coolidge.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Cor. 3rd & Madison Ave.
B. C. Whitmore, Pastor

God's love is like the weather, there is always lots of it and it just keeps on. Our church services and Sunday school is like that sometimes too; sometimes when the weather is not the best we have the best attendance and interest. Our Sunday school is always at 10 o'clock. The topic is, "Jesus Begins His Ministry." This interesting teacher deserves to be studied and understood. You will be welcome at our school. The message to follow will be, "The Growth of the Kingdom." What is God's kingdom? What is it like? What makes it grow? You are invited to study these questions with us in the morning service.

The evening service will be special, and begins at 7:15. It will be a joint program of the C. W. Societies, and will be given in the main auditorium. The whole evening will be taken for this meeting which will consist of hymns, special songs, readings, talks on different phases of the missionary program of our Lord. The program being on the subject of Missions, there will be a special offering for this purpose. Everyone cordially invited.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

ABE MARTIN

"I'd give my wife this week's life of Lincoln if I thought there wouldn't be a later one out next week," said Joe Lark, today. "I don't believe my husband ever used profanity but two times in his life—once when a window blind roller went off in his hands, and once at 3 o'clock in the mornin' when he stepped on a toy train o' cars," remarked Mrs. Leghorn Tharp, this afternoon.

Wants Ford Called In Cotton Probe

Washington, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, announced today he will ask the Senate cotton price investigating committee to summon Henry Ford in connection with charges that his cotton buyers are "remorseless."

A few days ago Arthur R. Marsh, former president of the New York Cotton Exchange, testified that one of the causes of the low price of cotton is "remorseless buying" by Ford and other big cotton purchasers.

Keep Your Clothes Fresh New, Young

YOUR clothing must look fresh, new, YOUNG, if you are to be a success in the business or social world. Employers do not give responsible positions to people who wear "old clothes"; hostesses do not often invite shabby guests. Let us help you to keep your clothes YOUNG.

The modern method of clothes pressing—the method we use—will bring back the original shape to worn garments; will raise the nap and restore lustre to the fabric. You'll look better and feel better when your clothes are kept young.
